Through this program, you will be able to ship to us your current head unit and receive a new head unit of the same product line at a heavily discounted price. We are offering this amazing offer simply to say thank you to those loyal customers who have been with us through the years. We appreciate your support and welcome you to the next generation of Insane Audio products!

To qualify, you will need to package and ship to us your current head unit along with the attached order sheet indicating your desired components.
